Contents

NUMBER 1—JUNE, 1959

PAGE

The Divided Mind of Anthony Trollope, by John Hagan 1

Four Versions of The Return of the Native, by Otis B. Wheeler 27

The Ambassadors: Strether's Vision of Evil, by J. A. Ward 45

Structure and Theme in The House of the Seven Gables, by William B. Dillingham 59

Notes and Reviews 71

Inconsistencies and Inaccuracies in Adam Bede, by Daniel P. Deneau

A Note on James's "The Pupil," by Seymour Lainoff

Crane's Decoration Day Article and The Red Badge of Courage, by Daniel G. Hoffman

The Incest Theme in Wuthering Heights, by Eric Solomon

Review: From Jane Austen to Joseph Conrad, edited by Rathburn and Steinmann, reviewed by Arthur Collins

Review: An Investigation of Gondal, by W. D. Paden, reviewed by Mary Visick

Review: The Realist at War, by Edwin H. Cady, reviewed by Robert Falk

Current Books

NUMBER 2—SEPTEMBER, 1959

Lockwood's Dreams and the Exegesis of Wuthering Heights, by Edgar F. Shannon, Jr. 95

The Return of the Native as Antichristian Document, by John Paterson . . 111

Dion Boucicault Stages Mary Barton, by Richard D. Altick 129

The Portrait of a Lady: "The Eternal Mystery of Things," by Lyall H. Powers 143

Henry James and Italy, by Robert L. Gale 157

Notes and Reviews 171

Mr. Pickwick and The Dance of Death, by Lauriat Lane, Jr.

The Aspern Papers: A Comedy of Masks, by William Bysshe Stein

Review: Charles Dickens, A Critical Introduction, by K. J. Fielding, reviewed by J. Hillis Miller

Review: The Maturity of Dickens, by Monroe Engel, reviewed by Edgar Johnson

Current Books

NUMBER 3—DECEMBER, 1959

W. H. Mallock's Other Novels, by P. M. Yarker 189
Poe in The Confidence-Man, by Harrison Hayford 207
Stephen Crane: The Pattern of Affirmation, by Max Westbrook 219
Gabriel Nash—Somewhat Less than Angel? by Oscar Cargill 231
George Eliot and the Romance, by Alexander Welsh 241
Hawthorne's "Young Goodman Brown": Cynicism or Meliorism? by Paul W. Miller 255
Notes and Reviews 265
Political Passion in Balzac and Henry James, by Robert W. Kretsch
Roderick Usher's Tragic Struggle, by Hennig Cohen
Review: The Novels of George Eliot, by Barbara Hardy, reviewed by Gordon S. Haight
Review: Movement and Vision in George Eliot's Novels, by Reva Stump, reviewed by Jerome Thale
Review: Joseph Conrad: A Study in Non-conformity, by Osborn Andreas, reviewed by Walter F. Wright
Review: William Dean Howells: The Development of a Novelist, by George N. Bennett, reviewed by Charles Boewe
Current Books

NUMBER 4—MARCH, 1960

Charlotte Brontë, Reason, and the Moon, by Robert B. Heilman 283
Hawthorne's Blithedale: The Function of the Narrator, by William L. Hedges 303
Hawthorne and Dimmesdale: The Search for the Realm of Quiet, by Charles R. O'Donnell 317
Myths of Character: An Aspect of the Novel, by Audrey L. Laski 333
Notes and Reviews 345
Bleak House and Dickens's Household Narrative, by P. A. W. Collins
The Golden Navel: The Cabalism of Ahab's Doubloon, by John D. Seelye
Lewes's Review of Wuthering Heights, by Allan R. Brick
The Origin of Original Sin in Hawthorne's Fiction, by Barry A. Marks
Review: Two Biographies of Anne Brontë, reviewed by Fannie Ratchford
Review: The World of Van Wyck Brooks; review by Robert Falk
Current Books